Case Study: The Protein Folding Problem and the AlphaFold System

ML for protein folding

- Critical Assessment of protein Structure Prediction (CASP) bi-annual competition

- Predicting protein structures from amino acid sequences

- In the past two competitions, Google DeepMind used machine learning in their AlphaFold system to great success